Project Management

Sometimes you just need another set of hands to handle a short-term project or set of tasks. Whether it is special event planning, creating a media plan, deploying a customer survey, or managing a freelance team to meet a deadline, we can provide the project management support you need to accomplish your goal.

What people are saying

"The key to success is understanding your client's needs and offering solutions. I witnessed first hand Annie's ability to understand the client's needs and offer effective, economical solutions. Be it a workflow issue or products being developed for the marketplace she finds solutions. Annie also worked hard at making her people be successful by setting expectations that were achievable, monitoring their progress, while not over-managing. Let em' fall and hurth themselves..that's how they learn. Annie's a keeper!"
